HIGH SCHOOL JRS. AND SRS. MAY ATTEND CSCSB SUMMER CLASSES AT HALF PRICE

The College invites 1976-77 high school juniors and seniors to attend summer session classes for college credit at half tuition.

Twenty-two courses can be taken for credit for the half price of $11 per unit. The classes, offered under the provisions of an executive order from the Chancellor's Office which permits waiver and reduction of fees for high school students enrolled in certain courses, will run from June 21 to July 26 and August 2 to August 20.

High School students must obtain a letter of recommendation to enroll in the program from a high school counselor. Registration is June 18 for the regular session and July 29 for the post session.

The courses available under the reduced-fee program include biology, computer science, earth sciences, English, geography, health science, math, natural sciences, philosophy, social sciences and Spanish.

Department of Philosophy. Peter H. Spader is coordinator of the forum.

Dr. Kegley earned A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Northwest U and a bachelor of divinity degree from Chicago Theological Seminary.

MATH - Dr. Donald R. Smith, a visiting lecturer for the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics, will speak on "Optimal Controls of Rockets and Vibrating Beads by Elementary Methods." The talk will be presented on Thursday, April 29, at noon in BI-129. All students, faculty and staff are invited to attend.

PSYCH - "Mental Health Issues and the Culturally Different Client" is the subject of a lecture by Dr. Hector Myers of UCLA Wednesday at 3 p.m., April 28. Dr. Myers is an assistant professor in clinical and community psychology at UCLA and director of research for Frantz Fanon Research and Development Center. He is also director of the children's identification, consultation and training program at the Los Angeles Mental Health Department.

The ability of the culturally different to benefit from mental health programs will be discussed by the psychologist. The public and College are invited to the lecture, scheduled in the Lower Commons.

A morning lecture also will be given by Dr. Myers on "How to Survive as a Culturally Different Psychologist" at 10:30 in the Lower Commons. This talk will be oriented toward those who are culturally different and currently working in or intend to work in health-oriented professions, but is open to all interested persons.

Christopher O'Hare of the Psychology Department arranged both lectures.
